Did I Do the Right Thing? Relationships is a collection of romantic relationship tales and dilemmas shared by more than 80 men and women. From the poignant to the humorous, these real-life characters look back and second-guess the decisions they made. Now they're asking you, did they do the right thing?

In short story form, the reader hears how love was found, lost, faked, eluded, hidden, and even betrayed from the grave. Dating, married, or one side of the triangle in an affair, they stuck it out, worked it out, or walked out. Now they've moved on. Or have they?

At the end of each chapter, readers may use a QR code or link to the book's website to weigh-in on the characters' resolutions to their dilemmas. Once a vote is cast, it's revealed "What Happened" after a decision was made. With the passage of time, does the character believe they did the right thing? You may be surprised.
